

Terms of Use; Disclaimer

Farm to Farmer is a website developed by Washington Farmland Trust, a nonprofit organization. It is not involved in real estate listing, brokerage or sales activities. We do not represent owners or tenants of properties and are not affiliated with owners or potential tenants (or their representatives) which list, advertise, sell or rent properties. Washington Farmland Trust does not perform real estate brokerage services or receive any real estate commissions before, during or after any transactions directly related to this site. We are not responsible for the accuracy of the information posted by others on the Farm to Farmer website. Washington Farmland Trust will not use or share posted material without the poster's consent or unless otherwise explicitly stated on this website. Washington Farmland Trust may allow third parties to post advertisements on this website. Any such advertisements are not an endorsement of the product or services advertised therein. Washington Farmland Trust is not responsible for the content and representations of any third party linked websites.

Farm to Farmer cannot guarantee a successful farmland-farmer match and is released from responsibility for any loss, damage or injury that may occur as a result of inquiries. By submitting an application, you are giving Washington Farmland Trust permission to post your information on its website. It is your responsibility to contact Washington Farmland Trust if you are no longer interested in participating in the matching project.

You agree to comply with applicable laws, including but not limited to those prohibiting discriminatory preferences based on age, race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, familial status, or handicap/disability.

The Fair Housing Act provides additional protections, and limited exceptions, that are explained in publications from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD") and the Department of Justice.

We reserve the right to exclude discriminatory or objectionable content.

Acknowledgement and Release

By clicking "Submit," you certify that the above information is to the best of your knowledge accurate and complete and is made in good faith for the purpose of participating in the Farm to Farmer land matching project. You give Washington Farmland Trust and organizations with which it collaborates ("cooperating parties") permission to release your name, address, phone number, and any information provided by you or information or maps created with such information, to interested persons who wish to participate in the activities of Farm to Farmer. You certify that you understand that in no way does Washington Farmland Trust guarantee that you will be successfully matched with a farmer or landowner or that if a match does occur that it will be successful. In addition, you understand that Washington Farmland Trust its cooperating parties, and each of their directors, officers, employees, agents and contractors (collectively, "representatives") are not responsible for any activities between participants resulting from our match-making efforts. You do hereby agree to release and hold harmless Washington Farmland Trust, its cooperating parties and their representatives and agree to indemnify and defend each of them from any and all claims, costs, suits, actions, judgments and expenses, including attorneys' and experts' fees, that may occur in connection with provision or dissemination of such information by Washington Farmland Trust and its cooperating parties. You understand that Washington Farmland

Trust has the right to discontinue your participation in Farm to Farmer at any time for any reason whatsoever.
